Apprenticeship myth buster!

You will work towards a qualification and be supported by us as your training provider

You are NOT there to make the tea, but you are expected to work hard and be part of a team

They are for everyone, regardless of academic background

An apprenticeship is a real job with training – you will get paid to learn!

It will take between 1 and 2 years to complete

Apprentices are given real responsibilities, a contract of employment and holiday

How to choose an apprenticeship?

- What are your values?
- What makes you happy?
- What do you ultimately want to achieve?
